The local correspondent will be glad to receive news items from all who can furnish them. It will help us to make the Dispatch more popular than ever.

Freight traffic on the Erie is steadily increasing and it will help us to make the Dispatch more popular than ever.

A runaway horse with a buggy, minus a wheel, entered the village from the east and was caught by Bert Deane last Thursday evening. The rig belonged to Groner's livery stable in Leetonia.

Many voters do not enthrone over giving county officers terms of four years, instead of two, as provided for by an amendment to the constitution to be voted on at the election next Tuesday.

J. D. Smith & Son have abandoned what is known as the Townsend coal mine which has its opening on the Stouffer farm, west of the village, and will dispose of the machinery used in operating it for several months past.

Mrs. Herbert Smiley entertained fourteen ladies at a carpet rag cutting last Thursday. The ladies cut 57 pounds of rags and Mrs. Smiley served a fine dinner consisting of all the good things of the season to which the ladies did full justice.

While Mrs. David Redfoot of Leetonia was carrying a kettle of boiling catnip the other day she made a misstep and in trying to save herself from a fall plunged both her arms into the hot mixture and they were painfully scalded to the elbows.

Orville F. Moore of this place, who is the candidate on the non-partisan ticket for clerk of Salem township, is receiving many voluntary proffers of support at the election next week Tuesday. Mr. Moore is in every way a most competent man, always accommodating, in fact, just the kind of a man who should be called to fill public office.

Irene Chestnut of Columbiana, aged 28, was cut to pieces by a Y. & S. electric car near the loop between Leetonia and Columbiana last Saturday night. It is not known whether he attempted to board the car or was lying on the track. Earlier in the day he had attempted to board a car on account of his intoxicated condition was refused. He may have started to walk home from Leetonia. His remains were scattered along the track for some distance before the car could be stopped. Chestnut's father was killed 12 years ago on the Erie railroad between Leetonia and Franklin Square.

People in both town and country should arrange to observe Agricultural day which has been designated by Gov. Willis for Friday, November 12. Just how the programs should be worked out will of course have to be worked out by members of granges, farmers' clubs and other organizations, but the day ought to be given over to be celebrated properly. Meetings could be arranged and programs given that would do much to popularize agricultural pursuits. Not only in the country, but in the towns as well, there should be an observance of this day. Business associations, boards of trade or even the churches might take hold of the matter.
